

Our Library Charter

Reading is at the heart of learning and we are lucky to have our very own library at Estfeld. The library helps us promote a life-long love of reading in our pupils and gives them the opportunity to develop and enhance their independent learning skills. This is our Library Charter - our commitments and promises. Can you help us keep them?

Our library should be an inviting space for everyone in school.

All our pupils should have access to the library. Our teachers, teaching assistants and volunteer librarians can make this happen. Some of our lessons will be in the library, especially when we are learning to find information.

We will use 'Librosoft' on the computer to make sure everyone can borrow books and take them home.

We will all help look after the books in our library. We will share responsibility for keeping the shelves tidy. We will try to repair damaged books whenever possible so they can still be enjoyed.

We will keep changing our collection of books by buying new ones, enjoying donated books and using the School Library Service. We will ask you what books you recommend!

We will arrange special book events and invite authors and illustrators to visit our school.
